GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

A. WINDOWS USA, LLC

14. In or about 1997, Erickson Supply and Construction, Inc., an Arkansas corporation having a principal place of business in Garland County, Arkansas (“Erickson”), began marketing and selling a line of residential windows in interstate commerce under the trade name WINDOWS USA. Due in part to the quality of Erickson’s windows and its reputation for superior customer service, Erickson quickly became one of the largest retailers of windows in the Southeastern United States.

15. On or about November 6, 2000, Erickson filed an application to register a stylized design containing the words “WINDOWS USA” as a trademark with the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (“USPTO”). On or about August 27, 2002, such mark was registered as U.S. Reg. No. 2,611,832 which contained a voluntary disclaimer as to the exclusive use of “WINDOWS USA” apart from the mark as shown on the Certificate of Registration, a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit “A” and incorporated by reference.

16. Despite the disclaimer associated with U.S. Reg. No. 2,611,832, the trade name “WINDOWS USA” (the “WINDOWS USA mark”) subsequently became distinctive of Erickson’s goods by attaining secondary meaning and an indication of source within the consumer marketplace. By 2008, Erickson was engaging in business exclusively under the WINDOWS USA mark and selling windows throughout the Southeastern and Midwestern United States, all of which resulted in substantial revenues. Between the years of 2004 and 2011, Erickson incurred advertising expenses in excess of $40,000,000 under the WINDOWS USA mark by way of direct mail, online marketing, telephone marketing and customer referral marketing techniques. As a result of the long, continuous and exclusive use of the WINDOWS USA mark by Erickson, and extensive promotion and advertisement of its windows under such brand, the WINDOWS USA mark gained wide public acceptance and association with Erickson, both in this District and elsewhere, and became widely and favorably recognized by consumers as an indication of source in Erickson.

17. Due in large part to the substantial goodwill and value associated with the WINDOWS USA mark, on or about January 1, 2012, Windows USA purchased substantially all of Erickson's assets constituting its ongoing business. In accordance with such transaction, Erickson assigned to Windows USA all of Erickson's rights, title, interest and goodwill connected with and symbolized by the WINDOWS USA mark, and further, all of Erickson's rights to prosecute and defend such mark.

18. Since its acquisition of Erickson's business, Windows USA has continued to expand its sales and marketing efforts into other states and marketplaces, further increasing the exposure of the WINDOWS USA mark to the public. For the period of 2012 to 2015, Windows USA incurred advertising expenses in excess of $20,000,000 marketing the WINDOWS USA mark by way of direct mail, online marketing, telephone marketing and referral marketing techniques.

19. When Erickson began using the WINDOWS USA mark to sell windows, Erickson was engaging in or about ten states. Windows USA currently engages in business in approximately twenty-three states.

20. Between the years of 1996 and 2015, Windows USA, collectively with its predecessor, have sold over 1,600,000 windows under the WINDOWS USA mark which were installed in over 100,000 homes located throughout the United States.

21. On or about December 19, 2016, Windows USA registered the WINDOWS USA mark with the Arkansas Secretary of State pursuant to Ark. Code Ann. § 4-71-201 as being associated with its line of windows.

22. Windows USA is informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that the Defendants have made and are currently making interstate commercial use of Windows USA's distinctive, valuable and well-known WINDOWS USA mark and/or confusingly similar variations thereof on or in connection with internet advertisements for residential windows.

B. QUINSTREET, INC. & QUINSTREET MEDIA, INC.

23. The Defendants are marketing and digital media companies engaged in interstate commerce throughout the United States, including but not limited to the State of Arkansas, and provide marketing services to retailers of residential windows that engage in direct competition with Windows USA within the State of Arkansas and other states in which Windows USA engages in business (such competitors of Windows USA referred to hereinafter as "QuinStreet clients"). Upon information and belief, at least one QuinStreet client has a principal place of business in Garland County, Arkansas, less than twenty miles away from Windows USA's headquarters.

24. The Defendants receive a substantial portion of their revenue from internet "lead-generation" activities, whereby they organize, supervise and conduct online marketing campaigns designed to target consumers of products and services in a wide variety of industries, including but not limited to the residential window industry, and subsequently sell the consumer information they collect as customer leads to QuinStreet clients.

25. According to a website owned and/or operated by the Defendants, the Defendants' marketing campaigns direct consumers to over 200 home improvement websites that QuinStreet and/or QuinStreet Media "controls", which collectively receive "2,000,000+ unique visitors a month".

QuinStreet is one of the largest Internet marketing and media companies in the world.

26. On information and belief, such websites owned and/or controlled by the Defendants include but are not limited to the following: www.windowcosts.com, www.windowquotesus.com, and www.improvementcenter.com (collectively "the QuinStreet websites").

27. The Defendants conduct advertising campaigns for QuinStreet clients by publishing advertisements on multiple internet search engines, including but not limited to Google.com, Bing.com, Yahoo.com and Ask.com.

28. Such internet search engines provide advertising systems through which a company can pay to have advertisements appear in response to an internet search using designated "keywords." Such advertisements can be designed as "dynamic ads", whereby a specific keyword used in an internet search is automatically incorporated into the text of the otherwise pre-drafted advertisement. Advertisers using such dynamic ads intentionally insert computer code into the advertisement commonly known as a “dynamic keyword insertion” to achieve the foregoing. Such internet search engine advertisements generally consist of a headline in bold-faced type, a website universal resource locator (“URL”) placed below such headline, followed by the body of the advertisement.

29. Upon information and belief, the Defendants have paid such internet search engines to display their advertisements when consumers conduct internet searches using “keywords” constituting the trade names of numerous leaders in the residential window industry, including but not limited to Windows USA.

30. Upon information and belief, with knowledge of the reputation of Windows USA’s products and prior use of the WINDOWS USA mark, the Defendants use the WINDOWS USA mark for their own pecuniary gain by inserting dynamic keyword coding within internet search engine advertisements, all in effort to deceive and confuse consumers into believing that the QuinStreet websites are owned by, operated by, affiliated with or endorsed by Windows USA.

31. As a result of the Defendants actions, a search for “Windows USA” conducted on such internet search engines will display an advertisement created and designed by the Defendants at or near the top of the search-results page, examples of which are as follows:

See also Exhibit “B” attached hereto and hereby incorporated by reference, which is a screen-shot demonstrating an internet search conducted for “Windows USA” on Google.com (highlights added).

32. Such advertisements are literally false, misleading and/or convey a false impression, in that neither the Defendants, the QuinStreet websites, nor any QuinStreet clients provide consumers with any “quotes” or information pertaining to the prices of Windows USA’s products or services.

33. Such advertisements are literally false, misleading and/or convey a false impression, in that neither the Defendants, the QuinStreet websites, nor any QuinStreet clients offer consumers any information comparing Windows USA’s products to those of its competitors.

34. Such advertisements are literally false, misleading and/or convey a false impression, in that neither the Defendants, the QuinStreet websites, nor any QuinStreet clients actually sell any products or services of Windows USA.

35. Windows USA has not granted the Defendants or any QuinStreet clients any form or right in the WINDOWS USA mark, or any other lawfully registered trademark, service mark, name or proprietary right of Windows USA.

36. Consumers, confused due to seeing “Windows USA” in the heading and body of the Defendants’ advertisements, click the Defendants’ advertisements which subsequently direct consumers to the QuinStreet websites whereby the consumer is immediately prompted to submit information pertaining to: (1) the window product the consumer is seeking; (2) the geographical location of the consumer; (3) the name of the consumer; (4) the contact telephone number and/or email address of the consumer; and (5) other relevant information pertaining to the consumer’s interest in windows.

37. Upon information and belief, the Defendants then sell such consumer information to QuinStreet clients, generating substantial revenue for the Defendants.

38. After receiving such consumer information, QuinStreet clients contact the consumers, typically by phone, and proceed with marketing and selling windows to such consumers.

39. The conduct of the Defendants, as set forth above, has confused and will continue to confuse, mislead and deceive consumers, the trade and the relevant purchasing public into wrongly believing that the Defendants, the QuinStreet websites, and/or QuinStreet clients, their products and services are affiliated with, connected with, associated with, sponsored by, endorsed by, administered by, or supervised by Windows USA.

40. The Defendants' own actions of intentionally using "Windows USA" in their advertisements further evidence that the WINDOWS USA mark has attained distinctiveness and secondary meaning in the consumer marketplace.

41. The aforementioned activities by the Defendants materially affect interstate commerce among the several states in that the Defendants sell consumer information to QuinStreet clients located throughout the United States. The Defendants' false and misleading advertisements have a substantial economic effect on interstate commerce because the Defendants' advertisements reach across state lines to consumers throughout the United States, and further, cause Windows USA to suffer lost sales that would have otherwise been made across state lines.

42. Upon discovery of the Defendants actions described above, Windows USA requested that the Defendants cease and desist from the actions set forth above, but the Defendants have failed and refused.

COUNT I
TRADEMARK INFRINGEMENT
15 U.S.C. § 1114(1), COMMON LAW
& ARK. CODE ANN. §4-71-212

43. Windows USA repeats and incorporates by reference each and every allegation contained in the previous paragraphs, and further alleges the following.

44. The WINDOWS USA mark, which is used in interstate commerce and in connection with Windows USA's products and marketing materials, has been, and will continue to be, known throughout the United States as identifying and distinguishing Windows USA's business and its products from those of its competitors.

45. Without authorization or consent of Windows USA, the Defendants have used, and continue to use, the WINDOWS USA mark in connection with the sale, distribution and/or advertisement of windows and related goods and services.

46. By using the WINDOWS USA mark, and by selling, offering for sale, distributing, and/or advertising goods and/or services to the general public and in connection with such mark, for profit and without Windows USA's authorization, the Defendants are depriving Windows USA of its exclusive right to control, and benefit from, its trademark.

47. If permitted to continue, the Defendants' actions will nullify Windows USA's right to the exclusive use of the WINDOWS USA mark, free from infringement, and will have a substantial and adverse effect on Window USA's existing and projected interstate business of selling residential windows identified by its trademark.

48. The Defendants' use of the WINDOWS USA mark in connection with the sale, distribution and advertising of goods or products, without Window USA's permission or authority, has caused actual consumer confusion and is likely to continue to cause consumer confusion, to cause mistake, and to deceive, to the detriment of Windows USA and its customers and potential customers. Windows USA has been, and continues to be, damaged by the Defendants' activities and conduct.

49. The Defendants have profited thereby and, unless their conduct is enjoined, Windows USA's reputation and goodwill will continue to suffer irreparable injury that cannot adequately calculated or compensated by money damages.

50. As a direct and proximate result of the advantage accruing to the Defendants' business from Windows USA's extensive advertising, sales and consumer recognition associated with the WINDOWS USA mark, and as a proximate result of the confusion, deception, and mistake caused by Defendants' wrongful acts as herein alleged, Windows USA has been deprived of substantial sales of its products and its reputation has been and continues to be damaged.

COUNT II
LANHAM ACT FALSE ASSOCIATION – 15 U.S.C. § 1125(a)(1)(A)

54. Windows USA repeats and incorporates by reference each and every allegation contained in the previous paragraphs, and further alleges as follows.

websites and/or the QuinStreet clients. All of such representations are false statements of fact, misleading, and/or give rise to false consumer impression.

62. Evident by the false nature of such misrepresentations and further demonstrated by the fact that consumers arrive at the QuinStreet websites only after conducting an internet search for Windows USA's trade name, such misrepresentations have caused and continue to cause consumer confusion and are material in that they are likely to influence a consumer's purchasing decision.
